Texarkana Aims Plan to Prevent Race Violence

TEXARKANA, Tex. (AP) — Business leaders of Texarkana, Ark., and Texarkana, Tex., united Monday in efforts to prevent further racial violence in this city split by the Arkansas-Texas state line.

Both Negro and white businessmen met in emergency session and called for strict and impartial law enforcement to curb new violence. Officials of both city administrations promised quick arrests in the future.

A white man and three Negroes were shot Sunday when a riot developed as Negroes held a swim-in at Lake Texarkana, five miles west of here.

Law enforcement officers arrested 24 Negroes in connection with the violence and were seeking a white man who fired a shotgun into a group of Negroes.

Twenty-three of the Negroes released Monday on $1,000 bond each. Another Negro, Clifford, 21, was charged with intent to murder in lieu of bond.

Charged with inciting a riot, he was jailed at the Texas state penitentiary in Dallas.

Morton Melon to Prison Farm

ST. CLOUD, Minn. (AP) — Three reformatory officials say a middle-aged man walked into the prison July 4th with a big watermelon under his arm.

The man said his conscience had bothered him since 1947 when he stole a melon from the prison farm. Supt. Jack Young told the man to give the melon to a needy family.

Negro to Present Award to Ike

BOSTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. Edward W. Brooke of Massachusetts, a Negro, has been asked to present a gold convention badge to former President Dwight D. Eisenhower following Eisenhower's address at the Republican National Convention, Brooke's office announced Tuesday night.

Mrs. Kennedy to Live in New York

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mrs. John F. Kennedy is leaving the capital — and its memories of great triumph and deep sadness — to live in New York, hoping the change will be beneficial to her and the children.

The widow of the assassinated president disclosed she plans to sell her two homes in the area and take up residence in New York in time to enter Caroline, 6, and John Jr., 3, in school this fall.

"While she will always maintain her close ties in Washington," said the statement issued through her office Monday, "Mrs. Kennedy feels that the change of environment in New York, from Georgetown and its many memories, will be beneficial to her and the children."

The memories are at every corner. It was in Georgetown where she and Kennedy lived after they were first married, while he was a senator—from where he drove to his inauguration—and to where she returned to live after his death in Dallas last Nov. 22.

She bought the 14-room Georgetown house, at 3017 N. Street, last December for a reported $175,000, and it has become a regular stop among the capital's tourist attractions.

The other home is Wexford, the 26-acre estate in the Virginia hunt country which she and the president built for a weekend retreat and completed only last summer at an estimated cost of $100,000. They had little time to use it.

In New York, Mrs. Kennedy plans to live in the Carlyle Hotel — her husband's favorite stopping off place in the city—until she finds an apartment.

'High Cost of Dying' Brings First Probe Into Funeral Industry by Senate Group

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate subcommittee opened hearings today into the "high cost of dying" and heard witnesses from the funeral industry tell of abuses in prices and selling, and unveil a proposal for correcting them.

Wilbur M. Krieger, managing director of the National Selected Morticians, Evanston, Ill., told the Senate subcommittee that his trade association had suggested 27 rules to the Federal Trade Commission "for the elimination of abuses in the funeral field."

He said some of the criticisms and charges against the funeral industry—which he noted had triggered such headlines as "Death Cost Too High" and "The Undertakers' Racket"—are justified.

"But," he added in his statement, "there are many criticisms which are based only on isolated instances of abuse and misrepresentations of fact."

He said it is a fringe minority "which preys in the elderly and the bereaved" and damages the reputations of other funeral directors.

The rules that the trade association has proposed, he said, would strike at such sales pitches as these:

"Stating that the law requires a deceased to be embalmed when such is not the fact."

"Stating that the law requires the use of a burial vault when such is not the fact."

He said the rules would also cover such practices as:

Paying secret kickbacks to hospital and coroner employees for steering "a prospective customer" to a mortician.

Saying that a complete funeral costs $750, for instance, when there are additional charges or services not included.

The hearings by the Senate Antitrust and Monopoly subcommittee, under Chairman Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., are aimed at uncovering any possible restraint of trade and antitrust aspects in the burial industry.

Two Negroes Sentenced by Judge

Two Negroes entered pleas of guilty in Hempstead Circuit Court yesterday and were sentenced by Judge Lyle Brown.

Johnny L. Stiger, admitted to burglary and grand larceny and was given five years in the Arkansas Penitentiary. He admitted to breaking into Bradley's Pawn Shop on Walnut Street.

James O'Dell Wyatt, Negro, pleaded guilty to forgery and uttering. He was given five years, with four years suspended. He admitted to forging a check on A. J. Martin and cashing a forged check at the A & P Store here.

This Poor Man Finds Himself With Five Teenagers, No Wonder Guggenheim's Crazy

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Some parents find one teen-ager hard to handle.

What do you do if, like Frank Fontaine, you find you have five of your 11 children in the teenage bracket?

"You go nuts," smiled Frank, who stars as Crazy Guggenheim on Jackie Gleason's television show.

Then Fontaine, to whom family life is the keystone of living, quickly became serious.

"No, you don't really. Actually, the so-called teen-age problem isn't so much a problem to the parents as it is to the kids themselves."

"I call it the teen-age dip. Their bodies are changing, their minds are changing. They are trying so desperately to be like grownups, and yet they still have a foot in childhood."

"It's a tangled age. They're in a split personality period. The role of the parent is to be more understanding—to help guide them through it."

Frank's teen-agers are Peter, 19; Lawrence, 17; Alma, 15; Paul, 14, and Christopher, 13. He now is ferrying them in shifts to see the New York World's Fair, along with other members of his big family.

The big blond actor and singer feels strongly that children need help both at school and at home to tide them through the difficulties of adolescence.

"That is when they must build the character to last them the rest of the way," he remarked. "What happens to them the rest of their lives is often determined by what they do in that period."

"So many youngsters adjust. Others get in the habit of ducking the problems of life. If they goof-off, they don't blame themselves—they blame their parents and teachers."

"Films should be made and shown in the schools—films showing teen-age kids who ducked problems and the disasters that overtook them later."

"The problem of the teen-ager is to stay out of the whirlwind. A major error made then is hard to correct later."

"And this isn't a problem just of the slum kid. Children of middleclass and wealthy parents can get just as mixed up, and need just as much help."

What about punishing children?

"I give out lickings once in a while," admitted Frank, mildly lifting a ham-sized hand, "but I find that a good family discussion every two weeks does more good. Sometimes I have to hold two meetings."

Avalanche in France Claims 14 Victims

CHAMONIX, France (AP) — A snow avalanche rumbled down Aiguille Verte peak in the Mont Blanc range today, reportedly carrying 14 persons to their deaths.

Charles Bozon, world slalom ski champion in 1962, was reported among the victims.

Four professors from the National School for High Mountains, which trains mountain guides and ski instructors, and nine student guides were believed to have been in the party.

Bozon was said to have joined the group as a volunteer. Often called France's greatest skier, Bozon won the special slalom event at the World Ski Games here on Feb. 13, 1962.

The group was going up the 12,000-foot Aiguille Verte peak when caught by the avalanche.

An hour before the party started out, a professor from the school flew over the area in a helicopter and reported that weather was clear and conditions ideal for the excursion.

Reports received in Chamonix said that the body of Bozon had been recovered.

Proposals for TV Antenna Received

Hope's Board of Directors last night accepted four proposals for construction of a community television antenna service but took no action on the matter.

Proposals were from Floyd Bell of Texarkana, Morris Maynor of Atlanta, David Mooney of Hot Springs and Jerry Caddy of Mississippi.

Fear Another Rights Man Is Missing

GREENWOOD, Miss. (AP) — A civil rights organization said today one of its workers had not been heard from since he was turned over to a Webster County deputy sheriff by the sheriff's office here.

The Leflore County sheriff's office said James Brown, 22, Negro civil rights worker from Itta Bena, was arrested Monday night by Itta Bena city police on a warrant from Webster County charging him with a traffic violation last month.

The sheriff's office said Brown was then released to a Webster deputy about 10 p.m. for transportation to Walthall, the seat of justice for Webster County.

Michael Sayer, a spokesman for the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee, said his organization had tried unsuccessfully to determine Brown's whereabouts.

Telephone calls to Webster County Sheriff Billy Joe Bowen at his home and offices at Eupora and Walthall went unanswered.

Sayer said Brown, a Southern Christian Leadership Conference worker temporarily assigned to a SNCC project at Itta Bena, was driving his car in Itta Bena when arrested.

Sayer said his organization was apprehensive about Brown because of last month's disappearance of three civil rights workers at Philadelphia, Miss.

Mickey Schwerner and Andy Goodman, two white New Yorkers, and James Chaney, a Meridian Negro, were last seen on the night of June 21 after posting a $20-bond at Philadelphia following their arrest on a traffic charge.

Curfew Set Up in Georgia Town

WINDER, Ga. (AP) — Bedtime apparently is going to come an hour earlier for the 6,000 inhabitants of this northeast Georgia city.

Noting large gatherings of whites and Negroes during integration activities, the city council voted Tuesday to impose a 10 p.m. curfew. Councilman Boyd Garner said the council "was just trying to enforce the peace."

Winder had an 11 p.m. curfew on the books that was used Sunday night when whites barred Negroes from a theater.

Rockefeller Supports Scranton in Talk to Platform Committee

Gov. Romney Won't Line Up With Scranton

By JACK BELL

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Michigan Gov. George Romney failed to line up today with Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton for a stop-Goldwater GOP platform declaration that the new civil rights law is constitutional.

In an advance text of his remarks furnished the convention platform committee for a Wednesday appearance, Romney did not mention the constitutional declaration Scranton's forces obviously had chosen as a vehicle for a convention floor fight they believe might torpedo Sen. Barry Goldwater's apparent grip on the Republican presidential nomination.

Scranton's backers also were reported in line for another setback in a ruling by Rep. Katherine St. George, R-N.Y., the convention parliamentarian, that rules of the House of Representatives will govern convention actions. The platform committee adopted similar rules Monday night.

The parliamentarian's ruling would mean that Rep. Melvin R. Laird, R-Wis., chairman of the platform committee, would control the time and designate the speakers on both sides for convention debate on any proposed amendments to his committee's platform recommendations.

Laird is opposed to any platform declaration about the constitutionality of the civil rights bill. Goldwater, who has more than enough delegate votes to win the nomination unless they slip away, voted against the legislation in the Senate on the grounds that the public accommodations and equal employment sections were unconstitutional.

In Washington, Goldwater's campaign manager, Denison Kitchell, said there will be a fight if efforts are made to put the constitutionality issue in the 77 platform. "I'd welcome that kind of fight," he said.

Laird is understood to have argued with Romney against proposing action on the constitutionality question. The governor's omission of any mention of it in his prepared statement was taken as an indication that he had abandoned the project. He could revive it, however, by departing from his text or bringing it up in response to questions.

The issue assumed added proportions because Scranton and Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., one of his principal advisers, made it clear they expect to carry it to the convention floor to add to the emotional atmosphere there.

Faubus Asked to Show Tax Return

TEXARKANA, Ark. (AP) — Gov. Orval E. Faubus was asked Monday night by Odell Dorsey, one of his opponents in the Democratic primary, to reveal his federal income tax returns.

Dorsey said in a statement that since Faubus is running for a controlling sixth term and since he has made such an issue of his "poor boy" status, he should make public the returns.

"Certainly no candidate would mind providing his moral eligibility to run for office by making his federal income tax returns available," Dorsey said.

He said a "well-oiled political machine that is in control of state government is falling apart."

With all its control and power, Dorsey said, 6,441 votes could have forced a runoff two years ago. "The machine has lost more votes than that every two years," he said.

U.S. Thinks Russia Policy Is Shifting

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. officials studied evidence today that the Soviet Union may be shifting its policy toward the United Nations.

Deep interest has been aroused here by Tokyo reports that the Soviet government is proposing the creation of a permanent U.N. military force.

The reported proposal, said to have been made in a note to the Japanese Foreign Office, could be the beginning of a significant change of attitude in Moscow toward the world organization, officials here said, but the evidence is far from conclusive.

In the U.S. view, the Soviet attitude toward U.N. peace-keeping operations has generally been uncooperative. The Soviet government usually has objected to the employment of U.N. forces under orders from the General Assembly. The practice of action through the General Assembly was developed by the Western powers more than a decade ago to get around the Soviet Union's use of its veto in the Security Council to paralyze action there.

One of the developing U.N. crises centers around the Soviet Union's delinquency in paying U.N. assessments for peace-keeping activities. The Soviet Union faces a battle in the General Assembly session next fall over the loss of its vote there.

U.S. officials said that on the basis of the Tokyo reports they could not tell exactly what the Soviets intend by their proposal but assume that what they are calling for is the creation of a U.N. standing army.

In its 18 years, the United Nations has provided forces to deal with crises in a dozen instances, the most notable being the Korean war and the Suez, Congo and Cyprus situations.

Doesn't See Progress by Scranton

By WALTER R. MEARS

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater's campaign director said today he doesn't think Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton is "making any progress in chipping away delegates" from the Arizona column.

Denison Kitchel, general director of the Goldwater campaign for the Republican presidential nomination, said his forces "can't find any evidence" that Scranton is subtracting delegates from the Goldwater total — now at 710 in an Associated Press survey.

This includes 118 votes committed by state primary elections, 257 by instructions, 62 by personal pledges and 273 by personal preference without pledge.

Kitchel stopped short of claiming Goldwater has won his race to head the GOP ticket, saying only that he is optimistic.

"We've got a cushion right now of maybe about 75 delegates," Kitchel said in an interview.

It will take 655 votes to choose the party's nominee.

Kitchel said he hopes the Goldwater count will be even higher when the San Francisco convention takes its first presidential ballot a week from Wednesday.

The Goldwater campaign chairman said he sees little likelihood now of a major battle over the GOP platform being hammered out by the convention resolution committee.

On one reported Scranton demand — that the platform declare the Civil Rights Act constitutional — Kitchel said the Goldwater forces are ready to do battle.

Goldwater voted against the measure, questioning its constitutionality.

Goldwater flies to San Francisco Thursday and will address the platform committee on Friday.

mount a national campaign more concerned with future factional dominance of the party than future leadership of the nation.

On the civil rights issue, Rockefeller said the platform should express the party's pride in "the Republican majorities of more than 80 per cent in both houses of Congress which were decisive to enactment of a Civil Rights Act of 1964."

Goldwater voted against the bill, saying two important parts of it are unconstitutional.

Rockefeller said: "The Republican party must reaffirm its deep moral conviction that such federal legislation is essential to justice and equal opportunity for all Americans, that it is not only consonant with but expressive of the spirit and the language of the United States constitution."

"The Republican party must pledge effective administration of the law and other affirmative steps to assure both equal opportunity for all Americans and the maintenance of law and order as the only sure guarantees of justice and enduring progress."

Rockefeller's testimony cited position after position on domestic matters sharply contrasting with stands taken by Goldwater. Moreover, the governor threw in a number of phrases likely to irritate supporters of the conservative Arizona senator.

Rockefeller said the party platform must be one that "rejects the extremism of both the radical right and the radical left — a platform for the many, not for the few, a platform truly in the main stream of American political thought and action."

He said that "the American people are concerned with today and tomorrow — not with an imaginary yesterday."

Rockefeller came out for a program for health care of the aged similar to the one proposed by President Johnson and containing the key feature of the Johnson proposal — Social Security financing.

"Good heavens... Mrs. Turnbow was right about these scales weighing heavy! Remind me to allow her another slice of bread!"

New Upsurge in British Guiana

By CARL BLACKMAN

GEORGETOWN, British Guiana (AP) — A new upsurge of racial violence was feared in this tense British crown colony today after the bombing of a river launch carrying about 70 Negroes.

At least 10 laborers were reported killed in the blast from a time bomb Monday and another 23, including 8 children, were missing.

(A shortwave broadcast from British Guiana, heard in Miami, said at least 20 persons were killed in a bombing Monday night. Details were not given, and it was not clear whether the broadcast referred to the bombing of the launch or another attack.)

British army helicopters, police launches and private boats combed the muddy waters of the Demerara River for survivors from the launch.

This colony of 600,000 on South America's northern coast has been wracked for months by racial clashes between East Indians and Negroes. The East Indians slightly outnumber the Negroes.

The launch was blown up 25 miles from Wismar village, opposite the baufite town of Mackenzie. Survivors said the explosion came from cargo bags 12 feet from the engine room. Plosion came from cargo bags 12 feet from the engine room.

Fearing reprisals by the Negro population at Mackenzie, police put East Indians in the area under protective custody.

Gov. Sir Richard Luyt ordered all arms seized in the area.

Mackenzie was the scene of fire riots a month ago in which nearly 200 houses were destroyed. The entire East Indian population was evacuated to Georgetown.

The British governor assumed full emergency powers June 13, bypassing Premier Heddli Jagann's government of East Indians.

Fordyce Invites Candidates

FORDYCE, Ark. (AP) — Gov. Orval E. Faubus and two of his opponents in the Democratic primary, Odell Dorsey and Joe Hubbard, have been invited to speak at a barbecue and political rally here Saturday.

Rep. Oren Harris, D-Ark., and his opponent, Dean Murphy of Hope also have been invited to speak. Harris and Murphy are candidates for the 4th Congressional District representative post.

A spokesman for the sponsoring Fordyce Junior Chamber of Commerce said Faubus, Dorsey and Hubbard have accepted the invitations.

Three Dupont Workers Die in Crash

MARTINSVILLE, Va. (AP) — A twin-engine airplane carrying three Du Pont employees and two crewmen crashed on take off here today, killing all aboard.

Four of the persons aboard were killed in the crash and a fifth died later at Martinsville General Hospital.

Authorities identified the victims as W. R. Lycan, 40; Jack Combs, 33; and Carl C. Larson, 35, all employees at the Martinsville Du Pont plant; John E. Pace Jr., 43, Martinsville, the pilot; and Virginia Paarfus, 40, of Stuart.

Mrs. Paarfus was the wife of Dr. Edward C. Paarfus of Stuart.

The Lockheed 12A plane attempted to take off at 6:20 a.m. today at the Martinsville airport at the eastern limits of this southside Virginia city.

The plane crashed into a wooded area a half-mile from the airport and burst into flames.

Ordinance prohibiting demonstrating there while court was in session.

At Birmingham, U.S. Dist. Judge Clarence Allgood continued indefinitely a Negro request to prevent police from interfering with peaceful demonstrations at Tuscaloosa. Allgood said he hoped the testing of the civil rights law would be peaceable and orderly without disturbances.

At Tuscaloosa, a majority of Tuscaloosa's motel and hotel operators issued a statement saying they would comply with the federal law.

Negroes integrated businesses and facilities in Fort Smith, Ark.; Charleston, Greenville and Myrtle Beach, S.C.; Memphis, Tenn.; Ocala, Plant, City, and Dunnellon, Fla.; and Meridian, Miss. Negroes were turned away from one eating establishment in Ocala, but integrated four others.

Two drug store soda fountains closed in Hopewell, Va., and hotel shut down in Jackson, Miss., rather than comply with the law.

Negroes were turned away for the second time by a white restaurant owner in Atlanta, and city-county swimming pools at Brunswick, Ga., were closed.

Fair and hot reads the Arkansas weather forecast for Tuesday.

Fair and hot it was Monday and fair and hot it was today.

Northeast Arkansas escaped the heat wave Monday as clouds from thundershowers in West Tennessee spilled across the Mississippi River and held afternoon temperatures in the high 80s and low 90s.

Elsewhere it was hot for the second straight day. Morrilton and Clarksville reported a maximum temperature of 105 degrees, a degree less than these cities had Sunday.

Little Rock had 104 degrees, beating the old July 6 record in the capital by three degrees.

The weather bureau predicted that today's maximums would reach 104 to 106 degrees again.

No rain was reported in the state in the 24-hour period ending at 6 a.m. today.

Among those arrested was Mrs. Ermer Dansby Wood, president of the Miller County, Ark., chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

The violence occurred when a group of 80 to 100 Negroes waded, singing and clapping, into a crowd of 150 to 200 white persons in the lake.

The white persons left the water. As the Negroes began to come out, a lone white man, holding a broken bottle, confronted them.

The white man threw the bottle and both sides began throwing cans, rocks and bottles.

Lee Edward Johnson, 21, a white man of Texarkana, was shot in the leg with a .22-caliber pistol. Then an unidentified white man pulled a shotgun from his car and shot twice into a group of Negroes.

Pellets hit William Easter, 28; James Hutson, 17 and Eugene Sumler, 15. All are of Texarkana.

Officers said the Negroes sped five miles to a Texarkana hospital. The riot was broken up by sheriffs officers, federal game and fish officers and Texas State Police.

Negroes Pelt Police in St. Louis

By MIKE RECHT

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — About 500 cursing, screaming Negroes pelted police officers and police cars with bricks and bottles Monday night after two officers answered a sick call.

Nine officers were injured, two believed seriously.

It was the second riot in the area since Friday when crowds estimated at 400 demonstrated in the streets of Kinloch, a predominantly Negro suburb. Three buildings were set on fire during that disturbance which started over a fight between two Negroes.

Police fired four tear gas grenades to break up Monday night's incident just west of downtown St. Louis. At least eight persons were arrested in the hour-long riot.

About 50 youths later marched on the nearby 9th District police station, tossing pieces of brick through windows before officers dispersed them. However, a number of Negroes stayed to picket.

The incident began when patrolman Gilbert Tissot answered a call on a heart case in the Negro neighborhood. He found a woman reported sick. Her two teen-age sons were fighting.

Tissot went downstairs to call for aid and "before you knew it, people were coming from two and three blocks away, gathering in front of the house, screaming and cursing," he said.

Patrolman James Ramsey was first to arrive. He said the two sons attacked Tissot and him.

About 40 policemen, including members of the Canine Corps and their dogs then arrived at the scene. The crowd began a steady bombardment on the officers with bricks, rocks, bottles and cans.

Two sergeants, Roy Bottoms and William Brown, were seriously injured when hit by debris. Seven other officers suffered minor injuries. Police cars were badly damaged.

Naomi Murphy, the woman for whom aid originally was summoned, was booked on suspicion of peace disturbance and disorderly conduct. Seven teenagers were booked on suspicion of peace disturbance and destruction of city property.

Nationalist U2 Plane Downed

TOKYO (AP) — A Nationalist Chinese high-altitude U2 plane was shot down over East China by communist ChinCun2aanU forces today, Peking Radio said.

The broadcast did not describe how the plane was shot down. It also did not give the exact location where the plane went down.

It was the third U2 plane claimed shot down by the Communist Chinese since Sept. 9, 1962. Another was shot down last Nov. 1.

Tests Made by Negroes in Many Areas

Negroes ran into scattered pockets of resistance in testing the new Civil Rights Act Monday and integration leaders mapped plans for intensified campaigns, especially in Alabama.

The Rev. Martin Luther King Jr. announced in Birmingham that his staff members would go to Tuscaloosa and Selma, Ala., to begin assessing the situation in these cities. He said his Southern Christian Leadership Conference would concentrate its efforts in Alabama this summer.

Meeting with King's group to "re-evaluate summer plans in light of what has happened in response to the civil rights bill" were members of the Congress of Racial Equality and the Student Non-violent Coordinating Committee.

At Selma, one of the leaders of King's group, the Rev. Ralph Abernathy, made a strong appeal for nonviolence at a Negro mass meeting. He said the SCLC would support a Selma drive to test the federal law but "we will not be part of any violent campaign."

Earlier, 55 Negroes and 6 white men were jailed when civil rights forces launched a new voter registration drive.

The Negroes were arrested by Sheriff Jim Clark when they congregated across from the courthouse and began singing. They were charged under a city

Agreement About Umpire Pension

NEW YORK (AP) — The National League's Executive Council, meeting with representatives of the league's umpires association, has reached a verbal agreement on an increase in the umpires' pension fund.

The agreement, which came after three hours of closed door meetings Monday, must be approved by the league at the summer meeting, tentatively scheduled Aug. 10 in Chicago.

John Reynolds, attorney for the umpires' group, said he would present the agreement to the association and NL President Warren Giles would hold three at a time. One day I wandered up an alley which happened to be a stage entrance. Out came a guy in a beaver-collared overcoat with ivory-tipped cane and English bowler.

"He not only bought all three of my papers, he gave me a ticket to the show."

Little Billy joined the repertory company and was later adopted by the manager, Jerry Grady. Billy played all the child roles.

Billy moved on to vaudeville and Broadway, appearing with Marilyn Miller in "Peter Pan" and in George M. Cohan's "Review of 1916." In 1928 he was brought to Hollywood for his first movie, "Side Show," with Marie Prevost. He has been around the Boulevard off and on ever since and still works in movies and television.

He lives alone and hangs out with the normal-size actors at the Masqueros Club rather than with the colony of little people.

"I don't like midgets; they're top damned smug," he muttered. "I've lived with big people all my life, and I prefer them."

Powder Puffs Are Due in Atlantic City

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — A large group of planes and their pilots were expected to ride favoring winds into Atlantic City today in the 18th annual powder puff derby.

Only eight of 56 light aircraft still in the 2,573-mile transcontinental race for women have crossed the finish line here. The planes set out from Fresno, Calif. Saturday and have until noon Wednesday to finish.

Derby headquarters indicated early today that flying weather appeared to be good from all points on the course and competitors taking off today would have favoring winds.

The planes may fly only between sunrise and sunset and must stop overnight at authorized airports.

In order of their distance from Atlantic City, one plane was stopped at Morgantown, W.Va., eight at Lexington, Ky., 31 at Cape Girardeau, Mo., seven at Fayetteville, Ark., and one at Albuquerque, N.M.

Five planes flew in Monday after waiting for favoring tailwinds.

The arrivals included: Mrs. Hope Riehle of Burlington, Vt., and copilot Mrs. Dawn Hazelett of Winoski, Vt., arriving from Fayetteville.

Order of finish does not determine the eventual winner in the competition for $4,000 in prizes and bonuses.

sent it to the league.

The umpires, who on May 26 threatened a strike unless the pension plan was improved, currently receive $200 per year for each year of service upon retirement at age 55. They rejected a league offer boosting the figure to $250 in May, and demanded $300.

Details of Monday's agreement were not announced.

NAIROBI, Kenya (AP)—A member of Kenya's Parliament has charged Britain with a "cunning and deliberate plan" to win Somali tribesmen in Kenya to the side of Somali rebels, who have been raiding villages along Kenya's north-east frontier.

Japan has agreed to pay a total of almost one billion dollars in reparations and economic assistance to Burma, Cambodia, Indonesia, Laos, the Philippines and South Viet Nam for damage they suffered as a result of Japanese military actions.

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay (AP)—Sources close to Joao Goulart reported today that the deposed Brazilian president is suffering from a liver ailment.

The sources said the illness was not serious and denied a report from Rio de Janeiro that Goulart had suffered a heart attack.

"DEAR ABBY"

IT'S A VICIOUS CIRCLE!

By Abigail Van Buren

Dear Abby: My husband positively refuses to tip anyone unless (as he puts it) they have "earned a reward" for doing something special for him. He says waiters are paid to serve customers, doormen are paid to open doors, taxi drivers are paid to drive, and barbers are paid to cut hair, and he's sick of all these people with their hands out. When we leave a restaurant, if looks could kill we'd both be dead. I get terribly embarrassed, but it doesn't seem to bother my husband a bit. How can I get it through his head that "tipping" is an accepted custom and people who do not tip are considered strange?

NON-TIPPER'S WIFE

Dear Wife: Many jobs (bell-boys, waiters, doormen, hairdressers, manicurists) are considered attractive only because of the "tips" that go with them. And the salaries paid take "tips" into account. So in many cases, a tip is more than a fringe benefit. It is bread and butter. Granted, no establishment should expect the customers to pay their help, but until the system is changed, why punish the working folks?

Dear Abby: I am a middle-aged man in love with a woman a few years my junior. We are both mature people, we both have had a previous marriage. She and I are completely congenial. We like the same things, have similar educational backgrounds and can talk for hours without running out of conversation. I love her deeply, but she says she only "likes" me, she doesn't love me—and so no marriage. All I can do is hope and wait, but she says I'm wasting my time, that she knows her feelings for me won't change. Any suggestions?

UP AGAINST A STONE WALL

Dear Up Against: Believe her. Her answer might change, but her feelings are not likely to. Then you could have a wife who "likes" you but does not "love" you. That would be dandy if it's only companionship you're both looking for—but don't expect more.

Dear Abby: Do you think it is proper to refer to a single woman who has never been married as an "old maid"? I have a dear friend who has never married. She is attractive, popular, self-supporting, and nobody's fool. And I am outraged every time I hear someone call her an "old maid." Some women turn down chances to marry because they can't get the man they want, and will settle for none other. Others have families to support. There is probably not one unmarried woman who hasn't turned down at least one chance to marry. Why, then, do so many married women who are married to beasts get a smug satisfaction out of calling their unmarried friends "old maids"? I would like your comments, please.

MARIE

Dear Marie: The term "old maid" is not always intended as a slur. It can be used with gentleness and understanding. And self-sufficient women, unmarried by choice, probably couldn't care less. But I agree with you—when its connotations are cruel

Wedding Vows Are Repeated

Mrs. Terrell Dean Martin

Miss Laura Catherine Adams became the bride of Terrell Dean Martin at four o'clock Sunday afternoon, July 5 in the Heritage House. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Belding Adams and Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Martin all of Hope.

The double-ring ceremony was read by Dr. George W. Balentine, pastor of the First Baptist Church, before the mantle banked with white gladiolus and stocks. Music was presented by Miss Dora Ann King.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a short gown of candlelight peau de sole. The Alencon lace bodice was fashioned with a sabrina neckline and lily-point sleeves. Her matching lace mantilla fell to the waist, and she carried a bouquet of gardenias and fleur d'amour.

Mrs. Michael McMurrough was the bride's only attendant. She was dressed in a two-piece frock of champagne silk with matching accessories and carried an off-white glamelia.

A. G. Martin served his son as best man.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Adams wore aqua linen with matching accessories, and Mrs. Martin, mother of the bridegroom, wore pink lace with matching accessories. Each had a corsage of gardenias.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the dining room of the Heritage House. Mrs. Vonnie Edwards of Arkadelphia greeted members of the immediate families at the door. Others dispensing hospitality were Mrs. Wallace Martin and Mrs. Calvin Caldwell. Mrs. Robert B. Adams, Jr. of Little Rock presided over the bride's book.

For travel the bride chose a three-piece costume suit of ice blue silk with matching accessories. She pinned a gardenia from her bouquet to her bag.

After a trip through the western states, the couple will be at home at 4205½ West 34 Street, Seattle, Washington, where the groom is Specialist 4th Class with the United States Army serving in the field of personnel administration at the United States Army Recruiting Main Station. The bride will enter the University of Washington in September.

Special Bill Allows Claim to Be Filed

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate passed Monday a bill which would allow an Arkansan to file a claim with the Internal Revenue Service for income taxes he says he overpaid.

A. E. Rolfe Jr. of Parkin, Ark., contends that he is due $23,672 refund because he overlooked a $78,000 debt in computing his income.

Passage of the bill was necessary or Rolfe's claim would be barred by the statute of limitations.

A committee report on the bill said the Revenue Service ordered Rolfe to pay an additional $26,606 in taxes for 1948, 1949, 1951 and 1954.

Rolfe paid the amount in three installments, the committee report said, then filed the claim for a refund, maintaining he had overlooked the debt.

The committee said it felt Rolfe was entitled to have his claim processed. The bill was returned to the House for action on a minor amendment.

Murder Trial Set for Monday

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Circuit Judge William Kirby set Oct. 26, Monday as the date for the first degree murder trial of four Negro youths charged in the fatal beating of Richard Allen, 68, of Little Rock.

The youths, all of Little Rock, pleaded innocent to the charges at their arraignment Monday.

Allen, a Negro, was beaten and kicked to death at his Little Rock home last March 16. Authorities said a can in which Allen kept money was missing from the house and has not been found.

Charged in connection with Allen's death are Alvertis Barbee, 15; his brother, Albert Barbee, 14; Charles Adkins, 15, and his brother, James Adkins, 13.

Gilbert King, 15, also charged in Allen's death, has been declared incompetent and was held at the state hospital, Kirby said.

An 11-year-old youth, also involved in the case, was placed in the custody of juvenile authorities as a result of an Arkansas law prohibiting the convicting of a child under 12 of a crime.

Scranton Is Busy Fighting the Clock

By RICHARD L. GRAVES

CHICAGO (AP)—Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton, fighting the clock in his last-minute bid for the Republican presidential nomination, embarks today on a plane and train tour of Illinois to muster public support.

The Scranton campaign came as the shadows lengthened across his chances.

The Illinois tour was aimed, said Scranton, at arousing the public to such an extent they would pressure the state's Republican convention delegates to switch support away from Scranton's rival for the nomination, Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona.

The Scranton tour was routed by plane to Springfield and by train to Decatur, Mattoon, Champaign and Kankakee. Much of the trip was over the route taken by Abraham Lincoln when he left Springfield in 1861 en route to Washington for his inauguration as president.

Sources close to the governor said they did not expect any breakthrough in chipping away Goldwater support immediately.

In fact, there were reports from San Francisco, where some of the Illinois delegates have already gathered, that Goldwater has picked up additional delegate strength from Illinois. Last week 48 of the 58 delegates indicated they would vote for Goldwater on the first ballot.

Scranton Monday night went on a statewide telecast sponsored by his backers to answer questions.

Scranton was asked if he expected former President Dwight D. Eisenhower to endorse him for the presidency at the GOP convention.

Scranton answered "no" and added that Eisenhower "has never said that he would."

Scranton announced Monday that Dr. Milton Eisenhower, brother of the former president and president of Johns Hopkins University, would place the governor's name in nomination.

SHORT RIBS

By Frank O'Neal

Have you ever watched as your fisherman prepared to go on a trip to his favorite fishing spot - without you?

The ritual is as solemn as a heathen-rite. No Druid or Aztec of South Sea cannibal could be more inspiring and the mystics are as compelling as a witch doctor's. He'll sort his magic lures, look at the calendar to determine the phase of the moon and do other things wonderful to see.

First of all, he will get that far-away-lost-in-the-woods look. My Herb will recite poetry. Now, he is looking at me and he says gently, "Take this kiss upon thy brow. And in parting from you now, This much let me avow-All that we see or seem Is but a dream-within a dream." Edgar Allan Poe said that.

I suppose it is nice that Herb thinks that way because, believe me, Sandusky Bay is not like the fishing spots in Florida. And the fish are not enormous. Not the beauties one would have his picture taken standing beside and smiling. But somehow to our fishermen the dead old stumps and high weeds become their Forest Primeval. And the solitude does their souls heaps of good. So as long as Moby Dick is still haunting the bays and little rivers around the place-fishermen will fish.

Now the car was packed and with a kiss thrown in the direction of the house they were gone. But not forgotten. "Do you have the panel truck all packed for our trip?" I asked Marge, and she said, "Yes."

Marge and I lacking the intestinal fortitude it takes to find a new place to fish, picked a spot across the bay from our breadwinners.

We spread a big piece of canvas on the ground with two oil cans to use as operating tables for our bait. I took a small shovel from the truck and dug down deep. Up came a night crawler so big and ugly that I on.

"And I know the very day that we became Grouse Widows," I reminded my sister. "It was the day you stepped into a hole and bagged a grouse without firing a shot."

"We became Bowling Widows because we argued that it was much harder to make a gutter ball than a strike. We proved it to them, too. Yet to this day those fellows have never made a gutter ball that I know about, have they, Marge?"

Shaking her head, Marge answered, "Never."

"One consolation, sis, we can't get any lower than a Fish Widow," I tried to comfort her as we walked outside to watch.

now. They even bait our hooks. They can't trust us to go fishing by ourselves. They are afraid we'll catch Moby Dick.

Explosion Claims Victim No. 9

MORGAN CITY, La. (AP) - Joseph Deshanzo of Huttig, Ark. became Monday the ninth person to die as a result of an explosion June 30 which sent a $6 million oil rig to the bottom of the Gulf of Mexico.

Deshanzo died of burns in a West Monroe, La., hospital where he had been transferred from a Morgan City hospital.

A search for 13 other men still missing was called off Monday because of the great danger to divers, a spokesman for Reading and Bates Drilling Co. said.

FISHERMEN'S WIVES

By Helen Grace Bremner

Our fishermen husbands will go to any length to get us to stay home. For instance, Big Bossy Ernie, Marge's fisherman, will start talking to my Herb and it comes out something like this, "The reason I don't like women on a fishing trip is they can't bait a hook, can't row a boat."

Then Herb says, "Can't even catch a fish."

"Fishing Widows," Marge whispers to me.

And I answered her, for I had seen it coming for some time. "Well, why not? They took us golfing one year and before we learned how to hold a club-zing-we were sitting at home. Golf Widows."

"Then before that it was Grouse Widows," Marge went on.

"And I know the very day that we became Grouse Widows," I reminded my sister. "It was the day you stepped into a hole and bagged a grouse without firing a shot."

"Fishing Widows," Marge whispers to me.

And I answered her, for I had seen it coming for some time. "Well, why not? They took us golfing one year and before we learned how to hold a club-zing-we were sitting at home. Golf Widows."

"Then before that it was Grouse Widows," Marge went on.

"And I know the very day that we became Grouse Widows," I reminded my sister. "It was the day you stepped into a hole and bagged a grouse without firing a shot."

"We became Bowling Widows because we argued that it was much harder to make a gutter ball than a strike. We proved it to them, too. Yet to this day those fellows have never made a gutter ball that I know about, have they, Marge?"

Shaking her head, Marge answered, "Never."

"One consolation, sis, we can't get any lower than a Fish Widow," I tried to comfort her as we walked outside to watch.

Drysdale and Chance Start All Star Game

By JOE REICHLER

Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — John Callison homered in the last of the ninth today with two on base and gave the National League a 7-4 verdict over the American Leaguers in the annual All-Star Game.

NEW YORK (AP) — The rival All-Star managers, hard pressed to select a rested starting pitcher for today's mid-summer classic between the National and American Leagues, advocated a wider range of pitchers to choose from for future All-Star games.

American League Manager Al Lopez, after much deliberation, picked Dean Chance of the Los Angeles Angels as his starter although the right-hander pitched Sunday against the Boston Red Sox. All eight AL pitchers worked over the weekend.

National League Manager Walter Alston's choice was cut and dried. He named Don Drysdale of his own Los Angeles Dodgers team partly because Don was the only right-hander on the NL All-Star staff who had not pitched over the weekend. Four of the seven NL pitchers worked Sunday.

Both managers said they preferred right-handers because of the predominance of right-handed hitters in the two starting line-ups.

Originally, Alston had four right-handers to choose from but the nomination became automatic when Jim Bunning pitched Saturday and Juan Marichal and Dick Farrell worked Sunday. Drysdale turned back the New York Mets 6-2 Friday night.

"At the moment I have no idea who will be my second pitcher," said Lopez. "It depends on which one is more rested, and the line-up of the National League uses. I could use Camillo Pascual, a right-hander, or Gary Peters, a left-hander, depending upon the situation. And I've always got Dick Radatz and John Wyatt."

Alston said that in all probability Bunning, Philadelphia's perfect game pitcher, would be his second choice, followed by Philly southpaw Chris Short, the most rested of the 15 All-Star pitchers. Short has not pitched since Thursday.

While neither manager agreed with Casey Stengel's suggestion that a rule be passed prohibiting an All-Star pitcher from working the Sunday before the game, both agreed that a change was desirable.

"I would prefer that, instead of selecting seven or eight pitchers, we name 10 or 11," said Alston. "In this way we can be better protected against a possible shortage of sufficiently rested. It's this way every year," said Lopez. "Managers fighting for a pennant are going to arrange their rotation so as to get their best pitcher to work Sunday. In this way, he can have him ready to pitch again after the three-day All-Star break."

Lopez said he had no specific plans to make changes after the first three innings. Starting players, other than pitchers, are required to play the first three innings.

Drysdale, who was the starting pitcher in three previous All-Star games, faced a line-up that included home run leader Harmon Killebrew, batting leader Bob Allison, No. 2 hitter Tony Oliva, switch-hitting star Mickey Mantle and last year's most valuable player Elston Howard. Other AL starters included Bobby Richardson, Jim Fregosi and Brooks Robinson.

It was the first All-Star appearance for the 23-year-old Chance, who was faced with the task of overcoming a powerful NL batting order that included Roberto Clemente, Willie Mays and Billy Williams, the Nos. 1, 2 and 3 hitters in the league. Other starters included Orlando Cepeda, Ron Hunt, Dick Groat, Ken Boyer, and Joe Torre.

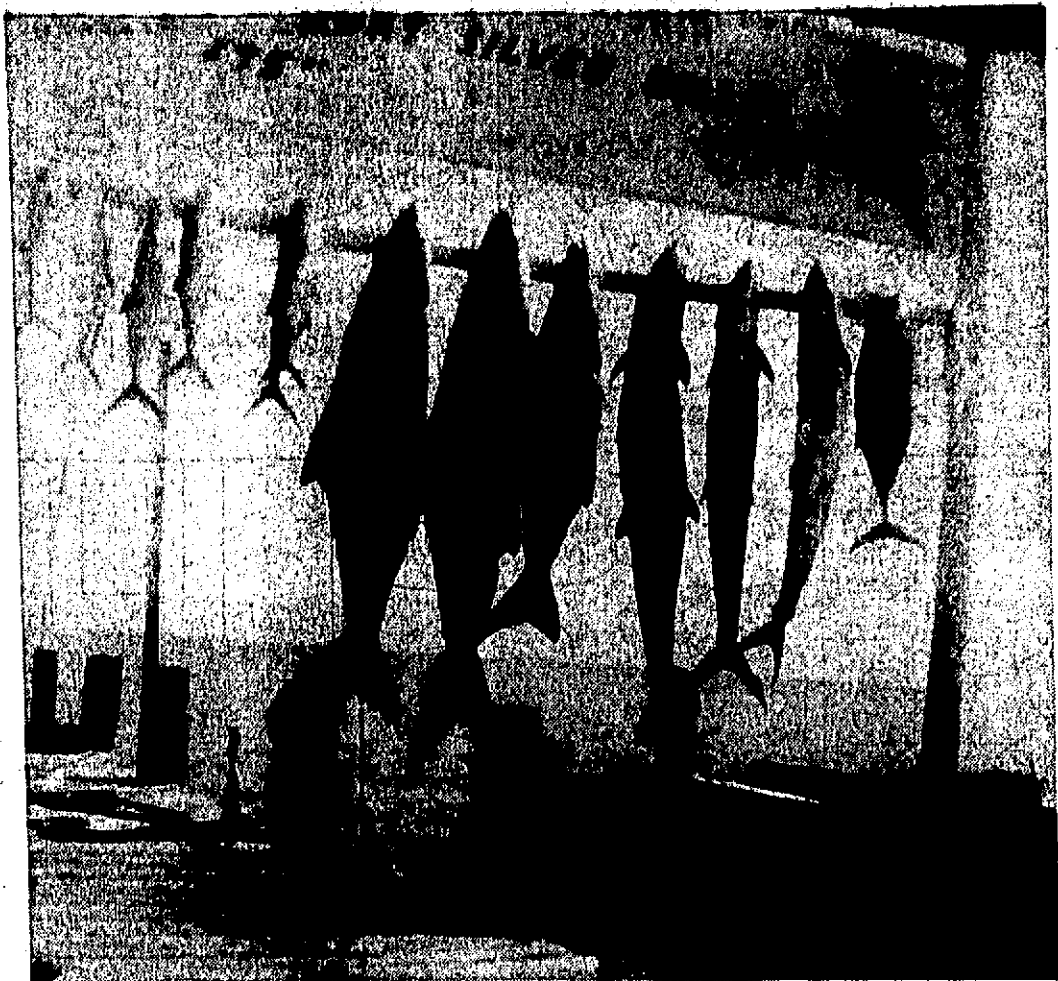

The American League held a 17-16 edge, although the National League has won 12 of the last 18. One game ended in a tie.

Stadium Is Unfit for Track Events

By JIM BECKER

Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Every 28 years they hold the Olympic track and field trials in this town. Eventually they will get the hang of it.

Say, the year 2020. Right now, they haven't got the thing licked. They tried again over the weekend.

To begin with, the 1964 trials were held in the stadium that was built for the 1936 effort.

The stadium has the following major drawbacks: 1. It is too small for a big-time stadium. 2. It is too small for a drive-in theater. 3. You can't get there. Actually, the stadium is on an island in the East River, and therefore is probably reachable by strong swimmers—from either shore.

But most people never go there. Taxi drivers, for instance. They are not an adventurous lot and will take you there only if you insist — and supply careful directions.

You're on your own getting back. Subways don't run there. As a result of all this disuse, the whole place is a little musty.

Until recently, the broad jump pit was the only one left in America with sawdust. The wags said the high jump standards only went to 6 feet.

That wasn't true, but the standards that held the ropes around the pit were stamped on the base: "World's Fair—1939."

As the athletes themselves pointed out, it really wasn't much of an Olympic trials, anyway.

For example, the winners here got a sure spot on the team for the Tokyo Games. Well, almost sure.

They can still be left home if they aren't in top form at the final trials in Los Angeles in September.

The next five guys in each event here got a trip to California to try and make the team there.

U.S. Rifle Team Being Selected

FT. BENNING, Ga. (AP) — The last four berths on the U.S. 10-man Olympic rifle and pistol team will be filled during the next eight days of competition at Ft. Benning.

Capt. William McMillan of Turtle Creek, Pa., Staff Sgt. Edwin Teague of Chandler, Ariz., 2nd Lt. Gary Anderson of Axtell, Neb., and Sgt. Martin I. Gunnarsson of Sedalia, Colo., won spots on the team Monday. Two others were named earlier.

Fight Results

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
LOS ANGELES — Masahiko (Fighting) Harada, 120½, Japan, outpointed Rey Asis, 120½, Manila, 10; Ismael Laguna, 130, Panama, knocked out Kid Anahuac, 132, Mexico City, 8.

30,000 Plan to Watch British Open

By TOM REEDY

Associated Press Writer

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland (AP) — They crowned a new king today for the 1964 British Open Golf Championship at the birthplace of the game.

He's a character known as the spectator.

Off the printing presses rolled enough tickets to accommodate 30,000 people to watch the 104th Open title play which starts Wednesday and endures 72 holes over the most impolite 6,926 yards of trouble in existence.

In 1873 Tom Kidd won the championship here from 25 competitors and a bibulous gallery of 50.

As the American challengers, led by Jack Nicklaus, Doug Sanders, Tony Lema and Doug Ford, and others arrived, the spectator fever hit the Old Course. Golf fans by the hundreds wandered around, sporting their spectator tickets.

"The spectator is the king nowadays," said George Simms, press officer for the Open. Simms, a golf writer in Britain for years, is by his very existence a sign of the times. The Royal and Ancient Club once permitted the press to come to the tradesmen's entrance to see something posted on the wall.

This currying the favor with the public has been adopted from the Americans.

Consequently, this time the paying golf spectator is being given new paths to walk alongside the nine holes out and nine holes back which distinguish the Old Course.

They are charging spectators $4.20 for the entire week of golf until the last shot is fired Friday.

The Open prize is only $4,200. The top Americans who have lifted the Open into the biggest prestige title abroad don't scorn it.

Indicates Braves Going to Atlanta

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Joe Torre, the Milwaukee Braves' National League All-Star catcher, has pasted an "A" over the white "M" on his uniform cap. "A" is for Atlanta.

"You can see I'm ready for Peachtree Street right now," cracked Torre Monday before heading for New York and today's All-Star game.

He and other Braves had been asked to comment on reports that the Braves will be in Atlanta in 1965. And while the Braves' management has not said flatly that the National League team will be in Milwaukee next season none of the players would go out on a limb.

One of the players, who didn't want his name used, said "Everything I own is tied up in Milwaukee, but I can't blame the management for wanting me to move. We have to draw 1,200,000 persons to actually make it a million paid because of the special ticket programs offered to boost baseball as well as attendance."

British Yacht Arrives for Race

NEW YORK (AP) — Sovereign, one of the two 12-meter British yachts still in the running for the role of challenger for the America's Cup, arrived from England Monday aboard the liner Andania.

Sovereign will battle Kurrewa V in a final series of trial races off Newport, R.I., starting Aug. 10. Kurrewa V won the 19-race British series 10-9.

Girls Compete in Track Meet

HANFORD, Calif. (AP) — Four hundred girls from five nations compete in this central California city Thursday, Friday and Saturday in the National AAU Women's track and field meet.

America's two top performers in each event win places on the United States team which will meet the Russians in Los Angeles, July 25-26.

In addition to athletes from the United States, there have been entries from Jamaica, Mexico, Canada and Formosa.

Meet director Herb Stockman explained that the competition has been divided into girls' and women's sections with 13 events in each.

Lloyd Eaton, a native of Belle Fourche, S.D., is in his 10th season as University of Wyoming football coach. His Cowboys have won 52, lost 25 and tied 3.

Sheriffs, CBC and Midwest Post Victories

By Jimmy Singleton

The Sheriff's team edged the Lions Club 11 to 10 Monday night in Little League play with Jones going all the way for the winner. Patterson's ground rule double was a big factor in the win. Watkins was the losing hurler.

In the second contest of the night CBC downed Hope Auto 18 to 5. Calhoun was credited with the win and Langston was the loser.

The third game of the night saw the Midwest Dairy team nk Coleman's Dairy boys 11 to 4. Lumpkin went the route for the winners and Whitten was the losing pitcher. Young's double was the deciding blow for the winners.

Three more games are on tap for tonight starting at 6 o'clock.

Brown Plans to Try Hand at Football

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) —

Former Maryland halfback and first baseman Tom Brown, who struck out in professional baseball, is going to try his hand in the National Football League with the Green Bay Packers.

The Packers, who finished second in the Western Conference, as they bid for a third straight league title last year, said Monday night the 23-year-old Brown had signed.

Terms were not disclosed, but Brown reported signed for a salary of about $20,000 and a bonus of $6,000—the same terms offered when he was drafted by the Packers in 1962.

Brown, a football star and baseball All-American at the University of Maryland, was a 1963 spring sensation for the Washington Senators, who paid him a bonus of "about $20,000." He opened the season at first base after hitting .312 in the exhibitions. But after hitting only .167 in 61 American League games, he was farmed out to York, Pa., in the Class AA Eastern League, where he hit .228 in 77 games. He was back at York this year, and his average dipped below .200 before he told Manager Jim Lemon he would play his last professional baseball game Sunday night.

The Packers consider Brown a top prospect for either flanker back or defensive back. He is 6-foot-1 and 190 pounds.
